

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

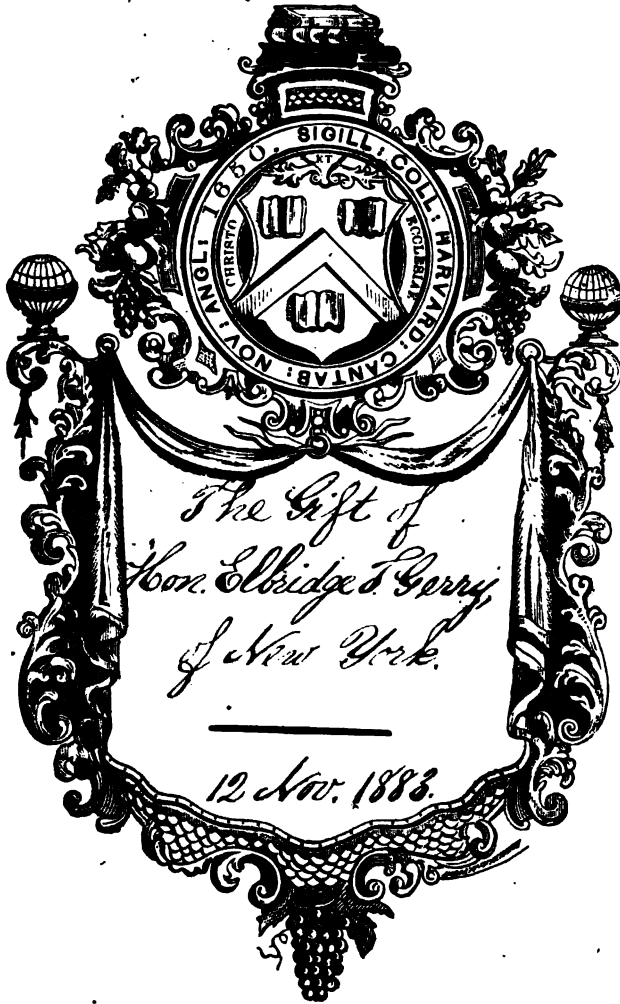

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ## PREFACE.

THE THIRTY-NINTH ANNUAL CONVENTION of the FRATERNITY, held in New York City in March, 1881, intrusted to the PHI ALPHA the duty of publishing the fourth DECENNIAL CATALOGUE.

Acting under the advice of many of the Alumni, and following the initial step taken two years previous by a well-known Greek letter society, it was determined to publish a Catalogue differing widely from its predecessors, in that it should present, as far as could be obtained, a complete record of every member of CHI PSI.

We think we fully appreciated the time, labor, diligent research and patient inquiry required to gather and compress within the limited space and time allotted us the materials which make up the brief histories of over two thousand lives. To make our chronicle perfect in every respect is not within the limits of human possibility; but we have spared neither labor nor expense to arrive at accuracy and must be content to rest there.

An earlier preparation of this work would have lessened the labor and produced more satisfactory results, as it would have given access to the personal experience of many with whom have died facts now beyond recall. It must therefore be obvious that the time for the publication of such a work as this had fully come, and a longer delay would only have added to the obscurity of the facts and the difficulty of their acquisition.

Notwithstanding all our efforts, there are quite a large number of members whose whereabouts are unknown to us, and some histories are not as complete as we would wish to make them. But much of this incompleteness is due to the fact that the Civil War scattered far and wide the members of three of our SOUTHERN ALPHAS. Some rest on unknown fields, but nearly all have been traced. In no instance have we ceased our endeavors because the object of our search had joined the "Great Majority."

In collating the material collected for the Catalogue we have omitted much which a few would regard with interest, but many as unimportant. Gladly would we have added plaudits to many lives well spent, but it is the province of the cataloguer to be brief and concise.

We have endeavored to give the full name of each member as far as possible, but in thirty-eight cases only initials can be given. In almost every instance this brevity is due to the fact that christian names have not been written on fraternity records, and have not been sent by these members in answer to inquiries.

It has been our aim to place under the one with which last connected, the names of those who have been members of two ALPHAS.

In some instances, by their own wish, the name will be found in the list of that Chapter with which the member was most closely or longest connected. For further explanation see the Supplemental Chapter List on page 315. Thirteen names are catalogued twice: in four instances (Becker, Duffield, Starr, and Waterman) through inadvertence on our part ; William Allen of the Union and Williams College Alphas, is placed in both by special request. The remaining eight names which recur twice are those of members of ALPHA OMICRON (Univ. of Va.). The active existence of this Chapter, composed almost entirely of those who came from other Alphas, was of short duration, and several members returned to the Alphas from which they came. To take these names from ALPHA OMICRON would leave it with a poor showing; nor would it be well to place them only in the Alpha with which they were not last or longest connected.

PREFACE.

Seven names, by mistake, have been omitted from these pages. They will be found in the Errata, near end of Catalogue.

The signs used in the Catalogue will readily be understood. A single dagger after a name is used to indicate a non-graduate. All those not thus marked have obtained the graduate's degree. In most cases the number of years in college has been given. A double dagger after an address indicates that the residence given is the last correct one known, and that the member thus marked cannot yet be found. This method has been thought better than the one of giving no address, as further research may be aided by it.

By addressing the EDITOR-IN-CHIEF an explanation of the Greek characters will be given to any one not conversant with their meaning. All corrections and additions to this work may also be sent to him at any time, at Red Hook, N. Y.

In the preparation of the Catalogue the list of each Alpha was placed in the hands of its under-graduate members, from whom an editor was chosen. In the case of ALPHAS not having an active existence, the lists were looked after by under-graduate members of different Alphas. In two cases one member had the preparation of two lists. Many of our under-graduates, in addition to the names given, have lent a helping hand; notably so F. A. NEILSON, '82, and CLIFTON BAKER, '81, of GAMMA, and J. T. DOUGLAS, '83, of UPSILON.

The list of deceased members (the "Athenatoi" of previous catalogues) has been omitted as unnecessary.

In conclusion, the editors take this opportunity to tender their grateful acknowledgments to the painstaking printers for their excellent typography, and to the many Alumni who in various ways have so kindly aided them in this work, and to testify to the cordiality with which their labors were seconded by those from whom it became their duty to solicit information.

ROBERT L. MASSONNEAU, JR.

INTRODUCTION.

---

"Can you number the gems on that CHI of gold,
"Or fathom the secrets those gems enfold?
"Then count them—though strange, you will find it true,
"Two meanings in one, and one in two!"

SECRET SOCIETIES are a peculiar feature of our American Colleges. They bear an important part in moulding the character of the students, who, during the four years of their collegiate course, are practically severed from parental oversight and home influences. The educational part of the student's life is known of course to his preceptors; but his private habits and conduct are disclosed only to those intimate friends with whom he daily associates and to whom he naturally turns for advice and sympathy. Upon the choice of those friends depends, in the main, his success in College and in after life. Time has demonstrated, in spite of the silly jealousy and factious opposition of College officials, that the most valuable and enduring of such friendships originate in and are cemented by these peculiar student associations.

But College Societies are variously constituted. Some are mere debating clubs and, under a cover of mystery and secrecy alike useless and absurd, gather in the largest possible number (often twenty from a single class) of the presumably "rising literary men of the College," to swell the size of their catalogues and diminish their current expenses. Literary merit alone constitutes the qualification of such membership, and whatever social tie exists is said to be that of "generous emulation." The relation is feeble, short lived and soon forgotten when the practical business of life supersedes the occasion for its existence. It may subsequently revive pleasant recollections in after years, and — that is all.

There are other Societies which are little else than boarding-house clubs intended to secure secret economy of living to their members. And again there are some of recent origin, created merely for purposes of social dissipation, without any community of interest, or definite object beyond the enjoyment of the passing hour, regardless of consequences. All these have a brief and evanescent existence. They become extinct after a few years, and are succeeded in turn by others equally ephemeral.

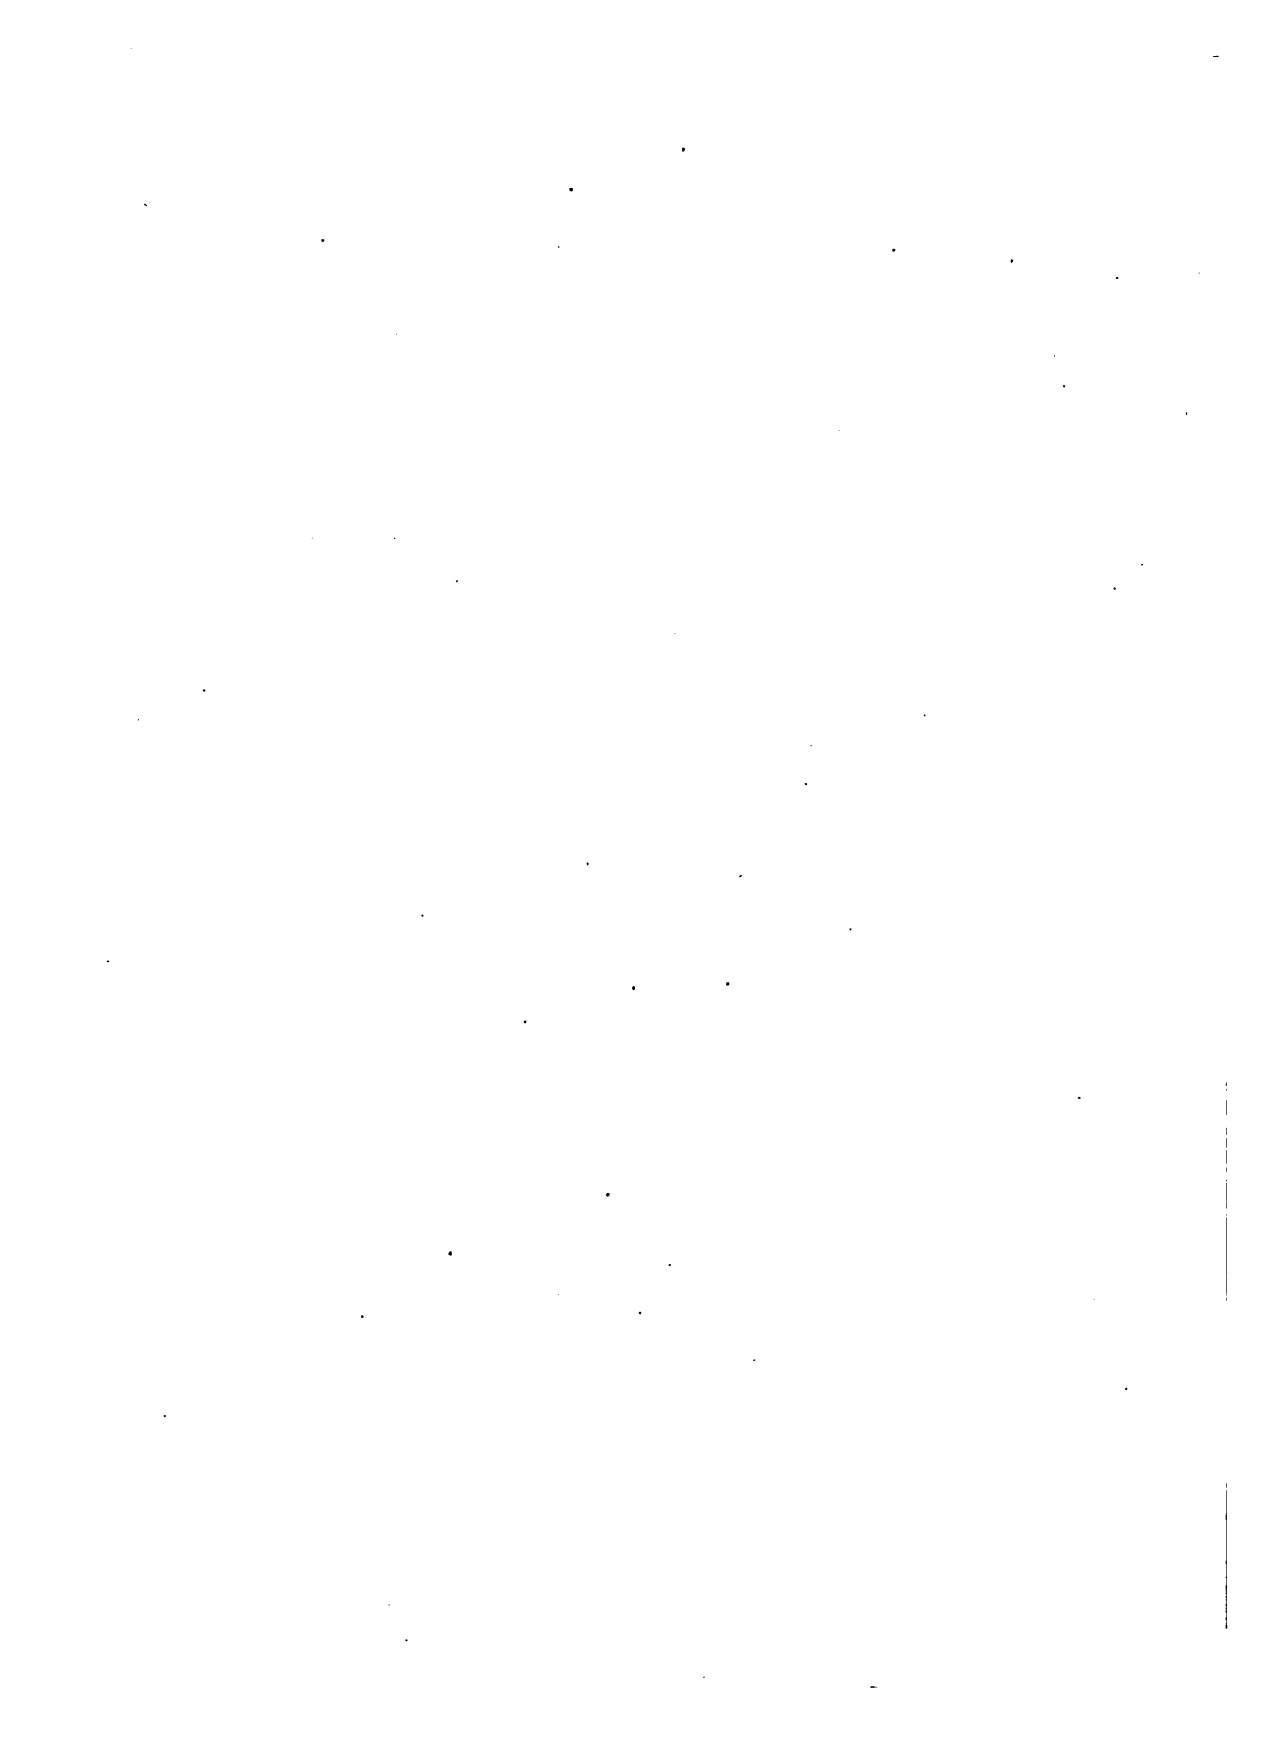

Far different from all these are the old solid Greek-letter FRATERNITIES of nearly half a century's growth, prominent among which stands CHI PSI. Eclectic and conservative in its selection of members, while its Alphas sometimes remain silent for years until the right material for their repletion presents itself, IT NEVER DIES. It recognizes no dividing line between College days and after life—between youth, manhood, or old age. Few, but fortunate indeed, are they who are admitted within its circle; for never has the Eternal Promise embodied in its Emblem been broken by one who wore it. Its noblest lives have been consecrated to Religion and devoted to Science and Humanity. Its best blood has been freely shed in defense of Country. The high social position, wealth and prominence of its members throughout the land which the following records of its Alphas but faintly indicate, attest the solidity of its foundation, its enduring vitality, and the extensive power it wields. The State has conferred upon it corporate franchises. On the Bench, at the Bar, in the Executive Office and Legislative Councils, through every Profession and walk of life, CHI PSI is conspicuous; and the oldest brother in the Fraternity to-day welcomes the neophyte with all the interest and vigor of early youth, recalled by the lasting coherence of the Fraternal bond. True, the principle on which the superstructure of CHI PSI rests, like that of Masonry, is veiled in silence and secrecy. But its influence, begun in College, extends through life, increases with age, and is endless in its application while time lasts and the Fraternity endures.
